A Perfect Match

Most of us need a job. However, where do you start?

Newspaper search, cold canvassing, aptitude tests, work trials and let's not forget the dreaded interview, where the most composed can crumble with fear. Now imagine that you have a disability. So on top of the above barriers, is the additional hurdle of an employers' uncertainties regarding employing someone with a disability.

Michael Osman has been a Jobs West client for over two years. He has a significant physical disability. However, he refuses to let this fact control his life.

And just as importantly, neither does his employer - Mr. McNamara, at CTI WIZ. When considering Michael for a vacant call centre operator position, he quickly recognised how much he had to offer.

Leaving Gladstone Park Secondary College in 1999 (VCE), he quickly gained employment as a storeman at a car parts distributor, where he worked for over a year. It was this experience that gave him the confidence to relate to a wide range of people and further use his problem solving skills.

Now that he is securely employed, Mr McNamara has but one comment regarding Michael's disability: "I don't care". For having a disability in no way stops

Michael from doing a great job and fitting in with a very close-knit team. Indeed, such is the progress he has made, that he is now in a position to assist in the training of the next new person.

Jobs West always endeavours to match the right person to the right job. In the case of Michael and CTI WIZ, it has turned into a 'perfect match'!

Making his Mark

Whether working on a Ford V8 Supercar or a Scania Truck, Robert has found his niche.

Employed as a panel beater (trades assistant) at Car Trek Automotive in Footscray, Robert has successfully managed the transition from Brimbank Secondary College to the world of work.

At school, Robert was a motivated student within the integration program. However, at aged 16, Robert decided that he wanted to follow his passion - working with cars.

After finding out about Jobs West, he quickly registered and undertook the rigorous assessment program. He was found to be a highly motivated, reliable and focused young man, who unlike most people his age, had a clear vocational goal.

Ready for work!

By July of last year,

he was employed full time with Cartrek Automotive.

His daily duties can include :-
bogging,
sanding, taping,
polishing and assisting in dismantling.

Mr. Bob Jones, the Manager of Car Trek, recognises that in Robert he has a young employee who is always striving to do his best. In his support role to the tradespeople on site, he is a valuable member of the team.
